

Bergs Potter

Stunning Pottery with a big history

Berg Potter was shaped by two different countries. It all began in a ceramics shop in Copenhagen during WWII, the pottery was created to lift spirits during the war.

A wonderful idea that led to the opening many more shops!
The business became a family legacy, something we are quite fond of at Sickles Market.

The familial generations traveled far and wide for inspiration and soon found themselves in Tuscany.

This is where they discovered skilled clay craftsmen and pottery artisans. They began producing designs inspired by these gifted Italians and then began importing Tuscany's most classic pieces to Denmark.

These pots are a stunning blend of Scandinavian and Italian design. After 75 years, Bergs Potter is still made in Tuscany and we are thrilled to have them here for you in our Garden Center.
